Tide Pod, Cold Water, Inside Out

Care Feedback: Vintage Wideleg Jean

- I washed exactly as per the washing instructions on the tag too.
- The color has been ruined after washing it according to the instructions.
- …had an issue with them after treating a small breast milk stain. I used a small amount of Dawn dish soap to spot treat the stain, which is something I've done with all of my Vuori clothing for years without any problems. However, after washing, the area where I treated the stain became noticeably bleached and discolored.
- I washed my product according to the care instructions and laid the item out to try. Once the item was fully dried, I discovered several spots of discoloration all over the product. I utilized Woolite Delicate detergent on this item.
- I treated some spots with OxiClean, not realizing that it isn't compatible with lyocell fabric. The treatment permanently bleached the area and left noticeable discoloration on the jeans… I used Oxiclean stain remover directly on the pants. I let it sit for about 20 minutes and then washed them with Tide Detergent on delicate with cold water.
- I brought home the pants and washed per instruction, inside out on cold. When I laid them out to dry I noted odd, almost bleach like markings. I had washed them with one other vouri shirt. The pants appear ruined after their first wash! Only detergent was used. I used Arm and Hammer detergent.
- I washed them once and immediately got white stains on them. I only ever use tide pods and that's it. It's never happened to any of my vuori clothes. I washed them the same way- cold water, inside out and just a Tide Pod.
- …washed once in cold water with liquid detergent (Seventh Generation). Product after washing looks like it was tie-dyed - very evidently faded in splotches all over the pants. Pants were not put in the dryer - I air dry all my denim.
- I wore these once and washed them according to the care instructions with like colors and no bleach.
- I got a stain on the Sandy Taupe pair and used stain remover (without bleach) and followed the care instructions.
- I used a color-safe stain remover that I've used on other colored garments without any problems. However, this particular item developed white discoloration in the treated area.
- …the first time I washed them the color of the fabric immediately faded and became a splotchy whitish…I followed the washing instructions
- I washed these jeans once before and had no issues. I washed the jeans, a second time, the exact same way and the way that it states on the tag. Turning the garment inside out I didn't even wash it with anything else just like before. I machine wash it on cold and then lay it out to dry. The first time I washed it the second time it had the dark spots on it so then I re-washed it because I didn't know what those were and then when I pulled it out after the second time from the washer, it has all the light almost looks like bleached spots that you can see in the photos.
- I had gotten a small color transfer stain on my new pants. I used a chlorine, bleach and toxin-free fabric stain remover to try and remove the stain but it instead caused significant color loss in the fabric. I have routinely uses this same fabric stain remover on all of my clothing/pants with no previous issues.
- Upon initial wash the jeans became discolored with spots. The garment was washed with standard detergent and the detergent was added to the water prior to adding in garment. I rewashed the jeans in only water and the spots worsened.

Care Feedback: Benton Twill Pant

- The pants were washed according to the care instructions, and I used only Zum natural laundry detergent. I did not use bleach, stain removers, fabric softeners, or any other harsh cleaning products.
- As far as washing them, I washed them once. I used the Costco Kirkland detergent pods. That's didn't work so I then had them dry cleaned.
- I have Persil Activewear Clean as my detergent. I always wash my clothes on cold, medium soil cycle, and separate whites. The things I dry in the dryer, I dry on delicate. I didn't have them turned inside out in the wash. The washer is just a standard stackable washer/dryer like in most apartments.
- I did carefully handwash them to avoid this, but it seems like the color still stained.
- I washed them by themselves, with cold water and with a very small amount of mild detergent (no bleach)

General Product Feedback

May + June 2026

⚠ Quality / Sizing Concerns

1. Sizing Feedback
    i. Strato Tech Tee: Longtime customers frustrated by the length increase
    ii. Sizing Inconsistencies: Same product in different colors fitting differently (Meta, Sunday, Strato)
    iii. Update Frustration: Updates made to products without clear name change (Clementine, Aim)

2. Quality Concerns
    i. Dreamknit Quality Decrease: Customers reaching out inquiring about a fabric composition update; less durable than older items
    ii. Legging Damage/Disappointment: Sheerness (Sunset Pink), Pilling/Snagging, Tearing Easily
    iii. Men's Pant/Short Buttons: Customers unhappy with how buttons are being attached to the garment; not secure enough

3. Clothing Tag Complaints
    i. Tags are difficult to remove (requiring scissors, risk of damaging product)
    ii. Inner size tags are uncomfortable/irritating (higher mention on leggings & women's pants)
    iii. Tag update has not resolved the issue

4. Other
    i. Ambiguous Measurements: Customers frustrated by generalized fit terms versus numeric measurements (ie. Mid-Rise, 7/8 length)

What Customers Are Celebrating

- "I honestly believe that the Vuori joggers saved my life." Customer's gas firepit malfunctioned, but her joggers protected her legs from the flames.
- "I have been taking figure skating lessons (adult hobby for fun ya know) and this past week was wearing my AllTheFeels pants to practice. During practice, I sliced a gash in my calf with my skate blade (don't worry, I'm okay), but SOMEHOW my AllTheFeels pant came away unscathed — no tear, no rip, nothing. Shoutout to your product for preventing me from needing a tetanus shot. I'll have a scar for lyfe, but now I am a Vuori loyalist for lyfe."
- "I'm currently battling cancer with the end right around the corner... I put on my Ponto long sleeve crewneck shirt and fell in love with how it made me look and feel again."
- "I wanted to thank you for making such amazing products — my dad has terminal cancer and can't afford to treat himself to nice things due to the treatment so I decided to buy him these sweats since he loves being active and comfy. He LOVES them. I can't tell you how much it means to me seeing him comfortable and happy in his skin. Thank you again for indirectly taking care of him by making such wonderful clothing."
- "I have had this jacket for probably 4 years with it travelling all over the world in all seasons and weather. It is amazing..No complaints here as it has been used as a jacket, to a pillow, to an emergency dog blanket and come out clean."
